MINCER announces new single, Satellite

The Lebanese producer returns with an original built on the contrast his live show is known for.

BEIRUT, LEBANON. 5 August 2026. Lebanese electronic producer and live performer MINCER has announced Satellite, his next original single. It arrives from an artist who has spent the last decade building a catalogue and a live show that runs its visuals off the same clock as its audio.

MINCER works in chiaroscuro, the stark contrast between light and dark. Tension is built through heavy, slow-burning sequences and industrial texture, so that when the release comes it has been paid for. That method traces back to the Lebanese Conservatory, where he trained from the age of seven, and to the electronic production he later refined in Munich.

I am not interested in a drop that arrives on bar one. You have to earn it, and earning it takes the whole first half of the record.

MINCER

Reworks under the MINCER name have passed a million views, with original compositions past a hundred thousand streams.

He has been a main stage resident at the Beirut Sports Festival since 2016, with further performances at Summer Vibes and Mansion Release Party, dates at Ked and Recess in Beirut, and regional touring across Turkey.
